Election '76

Presidential Primary On Tuesday

With Democrats outnumbering Republicans among enrolled registrants, Andover voters will have an opportunity to make a choice for President next Tuesday.

Or, they may choose to say they are undecided about the White House occupant in Tuesday's Presidential primary.

Polls will be open from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. in the town's six precincts for the 13,866 registered voters, who may, this year, mark a box on the ballot which indicates they are undecided, or have no choice for Presidential nominee at this time.

School Candidate

Joseph A. Finn, 231 Highland Road, Andover, has announced his candidacy for a three-year term on the Andover School Committee.

Educated at Northeastern University, he received a Bachelor of Science Degree in Business Management. He served in Vietnam as a member of the U.S. Navy, attaining the rank of Lieutenant.

For the past seven years, the candidate has worked at Honeywell's Lawrence facility where he is the Production Control Manager. Married to the former Carol Penney, he is the father of Anneli, four, and Jonathan, six.

Purity Says 'Return To Sender'

By Robert E. Finneran
Managing Editor

Purity Supreme Supermarkets is not interested in being a part of the Andover post office site selection sweepstakes.

The Park St. food chain, indicated to postal authorities by town officials as an option to Andover St. property for a new postal site, would like to be considered as a part of Andover's retail business operations.

In fact, a Purity spokesman said this week plans are in the works to expand its Andover facility, thus emphasizing its intent to remain a part of Andover's business community.

Frank Giacomazzi, vice president of Purity Supreme, told the TOWNSMAN this week that many Andover store customers had been concerned about news items appearing in this newspaper about the possible locating of a new postal facility at the Park St. location.

Griggs In Blast At Teacher Pact

By Linda S. Corbett

Admittedly risking alienation of his colleagues on the school committee and the professional staff, Chairman Frank Griggs said Tuesday night that the salary settlement with teachers was "not in the best interest of the Town of Andover."

Griggs said he was sorry if his comments offended the majority of the board who had voted for the settlement, or if they impaired his effectiveness on the board for the last year of his term.

However, he said, he felt the spirit of compromise had been "perverted" in the recent negotiations.

A few of the lesser issues, such as job descriptions and coaches' stipends remain to be settled, and the contract as a whole has yet to be voted on by the Andover Education Association membership.

However, the AEA leadership and the majority of the school committee agreed last week to the major issue of salary, giving the teachers a 6.25 percent pay hike this year, and 7.75 percent next year.

Griggs listed five groups of

"winners" in the settlement:

The Massachusetts Teachers' Association "who showed that the ends - justify - the - means philosophy is a valid means for negotiating", by using "illegal work action and threatening an illegal strike."

The "militant" leaders of the Andover Education Association, "who also showed the ends justify the means."

The "militant teachers", who got a contract "which spells out the minimum work they must

Hospital Discussion

Congressman Paul E. Tsongas of Lowell, Fifth Congressional District (far left), meets with hospital representatives from the Greater Lowell Area to discuss issues confronting the health care delivery system, among them federal regulations which raise costs and place administrative burdens on hospitals. The occasion was a recent meeting of the American Hospital Association in Washington when all Massachusetts congressmen and senators talked with 75 state-wide hospital representatives, among them (left to right) William L. Lane of Andover, director, Bon Secours Hospital, Methuen; and Judge E. Fenton, also of Andover, president of the hospital's board of trustees.

Academy Awarded Grants

Three charitable foundations and trusts have awarded grants totaling $70,000 to Phillips Academy's Complementary Schools Project to support Andover's Short Term Institutes (STI) for scholarships for various Complementary Schools Project (CSP) programs and to support the new Math and Science for Minority Students Program at Phillips Academy. Granting foundations were the Edward E. Ford Foundation, the Charles E. Merrill Trust and the William Randolph Hearst Foundation.

The Edward E. Ford Foundation granted $30,000 in support of the Short Term Institutes, a three-year experimental program now in its second year on campus. The STI's bring students from public and other day high schools in different states to Andover for six or ten weeks, to live in STI dormitories and study one topic intensively under Andover teachers. Institutes held this fall and winter have been in Astronomy, Visual Studies, Russian, Classics for Our Age and Physics. STI's in Finite Math, Poetry & Photography and Animal Behavior are scheduled to begin in April. Ford, who died in 1963, was an IBM director whose fortune stemmed from a company founded by his father and later owned by IBM. He established the foundation to "improve the quality of secondary education, with particular emphasis on independent schools."

The Charles E. Merrill Trust, established by a founder of Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith, Incorporated, the nationwide brokerage firm, granted Phillips Academy $15,000 to provide scholarships for the Complementary Schools Project, whose programs are planned to complement regular high school educational programs across the country.

The William Randolph Hearst Foundation has made a grant of $25,000 to support the Math and Science for Minority Students Program, conceptualized last August by CSP Director Jerry

Foster. The purpose of this program is to provide a sequential program of complementary math and science studies to a number of disadvantaged and minority youngsters from public and other day schools across the nation.

The Math and Science for Minority Students Program would attempt to identify these students' math and science interests in junior high school, and provide a planned curriculum over their high school years, including a series of intensive study experiences at a residential school like Andover, where models already exist in CSP's Summer Session and in its Short Term Institutes. These periodic intensive residential study experiences would be linked and given continuity by providing the students with curriculum materials throughout the year to supplement the math and science program in their home schools. The goal of the Math and Science for Minority Students Program will be to make the option of advanced work and careers in math and science a real one for interested and talented disadvantaged youngsters from across the country.

Parade Committee Awaits Town Units

Plans are progressing for the Bicentennial Parade set for May 9.

Chairman Sidney P. White said, following the meeting of the committee on Monday, that town units are still awaited as the final planning session approaches.

The committee will meet again on Tuesday, March 2, at 7:15 p.m. at the library, at which time float entries will be finalized, in an effort to prepare maps for the parade route.

Those planning to enter floats should inform the committee by the Tuesday meeting of the theme for their entries.

Ralph Luby of Andover and Patricia Guiffreda of Lawrence are assisting the committee as advisors on float preparation.

James J. St.Germaine is heading the committee on floats and David MacDonald co-ordinating the marching units.

School Funds Cut?

State Rep. Gerald Cohen responded to a school committee request for information with some less than happy news.

The governor, he says, hopes to cut state funds to schools by about $46 million next year. If the governor has his way, Cohen says, the school systems will be getting only about 81 percent of what they have normally been entitled to.

Sewer Line Ahead Of Schedule

The construction of the trunk line sewer to the West Andover industrial site is ahead of schedule, according to Public Works Director Robert E. McQuade.

The workmen have been able to work throughout the winter, with only a brief slowdown caused by the sharp rise in the Merrimack River a few weeks ago.

The trunk line will serve the new Hewlett-Packard plant under construction in West Andover, tying the overall area into the Lawrence trunk sewer line.

Another public works project got underway this week, with crews from the T. F. Kiley Company of Lynn beginning work on tying in of the Ballardvale area to the town's sewer system.

The contract calls for elimination of the Ballardvale Sewer Treatment plant and eliminates any pollution entering the Shawsheen River from the plant.

School Committee Challenges Selectmen

The Andover School Committee, which periodically engages in verbal battle with the board of selectmen, Tuesday night voted to challenge them to a five-man tug of war.

The unanimous challenge came after the committee was asked, by letter, to participate in the old-fashioned games at the town's Bicentennial celebration in the park May 9.

Committeeman George Olesen made the motion, and David Ahouse seconded.

Advisory Board Asks County Budget Cuts

The Essex County Advisory Board has asked for a moratorium on hiring any new employees for county departments.

The board, which oversees the operation of county government and makes recommendations on the budget, also has suggested that the number of guards and assignments at Lawrence and Salem jails be examined. One institution has 20 percent more guards than the other, with the same inmate population.

Sheldon S. Cohen, Andover assistant town manager, who serves as secretary to the Advisory Board, said that following a public hearing on the budget held last Saturday in Peabody, the group would also recommend closing of the Ipswich District Court and a reduction of $260,000 in the Essex County Agricultural School proposed budget. The school's junior college and evening programs are also being suggested for termination by the board.

Attending the Saturday hearing as Andover's representative to the board was Selectman Janet D. Lake.

Selectmen Meet

The selectmen will meet Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the Memorial Hall Library, with some discussion anticipated on budget items to be presented to town meeting scheduled.

Commemorative Coins Get National Attention

Andover's Bicentennial medallions are being seen these days on silver chains around ladies' necks, as key rings, or displayed proudly on walnut stands in the living rooms.

They sold well as Christmas presents and now seem to be the birthday present for the Bicentennial year.

Coin collectors covet them and a national magazine Coin World has added them to the must's of the year. Consequently requests have come in from far and wide.

The Alumni Bulletin of Phillips Academy will feature an article about the coin, explaining the historic significance of the design. One side shows the familiar Town Seal picturing the Indian carrying the coat which he received in payment for Andover. The other has busts of Samuel Phillips, father and son, legislators, educators, active Andover citizens at the time of the Revolution.

Coins may be purchased at the Town Hall or from Col. E.M. Harris of the Bicentennial Committee. Proceeds go to defray expenses of the Bicentennial.

Administrators Get Increases

Administrative pay hikes, subject of an annual school committee hassle, were passed Tuesday night with relatively little ado.

In fact, praise was the general order as the committee voted 4-1 to grant Superintendent Kenneth R. Seifert a $1500 raise, effective last July. It brings his salary this year to $32,750.

Transportation Assistant Sam Arcidy was given a $1,000 hike effective last Sept. 1, bringing him to $11,000; Cafeteria Manager Richard Barron, $900 effective last September, for a total of $12,400; and Personnel Manager Robert Olsson, $250, effective March 1, for $16,000. Olsson will be reviewed again at the end of the school year.

Chairman Frank Griggs said it has become tradition to wait to approve a raise for the superintendent until the teachers' contract was settled, so the raise is nearly two years late in coming. He said he felt Seifert had done a good job in the last year "under very, very difficult circumstances", and that in his opinion, at least, Seifert has been following the direction letter put out at the first of the year. "We are now," Griggs said, "meeting most of those goals."

Griggs also noted that Arcidy had done a fine job in streamlining bus routes, and in filling in as office manager as well. Arcidy is now being paid for the extra duties.

He said the committee also felt that Barron had done a fine job in economically running the cafeterias.

Committeeman George

Olesen, the lone "no" against the increases, said he was not questioning their merit, but the amounts and dates attached.

He had missed the school committee session when the raises were discussed, and said, first of all, that he didn't think anyone earning over $25,000 was entitled to a cost of living raise.

Olesen said he felt Seifert should be reviewed on the basis of merit, not need, and proceeded to ask the superintendent if he felt students have been achieving more and learning better in the past two years than in previous years.

"Certainly," Seifert said. "Has there been overall improvement in the school system in the past two years?" Olesen asked.

"In achievement, yes; morale, no," Seifert replied.

"Do you think we have had a better school system in the last two years than we had in previous years?" Olesen said.

"It has improved each year since 1969," Seifert said.

"I have to concur with you," Olesen said.

He agreed a merit increase was in order, but moved that Seifert's be made from July 1, 1975 to June 30, 1977, not June 30, 1976.

He received no second, however.

He also received no second when he attempted to lower Arcidy's raise to $750. Arcidy received an 11 percent increase last year, and $1,000 makes 10 percent this year, Olesen said.

Olesen concluded that Seifert came to Andover in 1969 at $25,000, and that "almost $10,000 is a significant increase over a relatively short amount of time."

Mrs. Jeannette DeFelice of Pine St. said she thought superintendents got increases every five years. "He also gets $1200 a year without a voucher," she said.

Seifert does get a $100-a-month transportation allowance.

The school committee also put an end Tuesday to the practice of upgrading teacher aides to instructional aides, at the step they had achieved at the lesser job.

Olesen moved that Mrs. Maureen Hanawalt, who was being transferred from teacher aide to instructional aide, be promoted at Step 1 on the higher scale, not Step 4 as the administration requested.

At Step 4 on the teacher aide track, she had been making $2.66 per hour and at Step 1 on the instructional aide, she would make $3.02. Olesen said he felt that was enough of a hike and Committeemen Robert McIntyre and David Ahouse agreed. Griggs and Elaine Viehmann voted "no".

In other action, the committee appointed Mrs. Linda Aronson a half-time English teacher, and made a host of coaching appointments for the spring term.

They tabled appointments of two gymnastics coaches for the winter terms.

McIntyre noted that the state law required that winter sports end March 8, and that on the high school level at least, gymnastics are considered a winter sport.

The request before them was to name Kenneth Maglio and D. Amundsen boys' gymnastics coaches at East and West Jr. Highs, respectively, effective Feb. 23 to April 9.

Coaching appointments for the spring season were by schools as follows.

Panel Discussion On Nutrition Planned

Family Kindergarten, 33 Johnson St., North Andover, cordially invites the public to an open meeting to be held Tuesday, March 2 at 8 at the school. A panel will answer questions posed by a moderator and later from the audience on nutrition and children. In addition to the panel discussion, there will be visual displays and nutritious snacks made with children's tastes in mind to be sampled after the meeting. Recipe sheets will be available to take home.

The panel will be composed of three speakers, each with an expertise in a certain field.

Dr. J. William Gemmell, a graduate of Merrimack College and Georgetown University

School of Dentistry and an Andover dentist for ten years, will relate good nutrition to good dental health.

Mary Spooner, a registered dietitian with a BS in food science from Iowa State University, will help parents dispel some of the myths about food requirements for young children.

Joyce Robinson, the third panelist, received her BS and MS in home economics from West Michigan University and taught home economics in high school. She will encourage mothers to ask themselves what is in the food they prepare for their families.

Family Kindergarten is a cooperative nursery school located next to the YMCA building in old North Andover center where parents not only share in decisions concerning the day-to-day operation of the school but also participate in each morning session as teacher aides. Mrs. Lorna McIntyre, 231 Andover St., Andover, is in charge of the meeting.

School Committee Scraps Portable Classroom Plan

Portable classrooms were moved off the junior high and high horizons Tuesday night, when the school committee voted to withdraw its article to fund them from the town warrant.

In following a recommendation from Superintendent Kenneth R. Seifert, because portables would be too costly, the committee revived the possibilities of a 4-4-4 grade restructuring plan, use of Sacred Heart School and an addition to the high school.

They directed the administration to move full steam ahead on "hard figures" for those alternatives, as well as use of "dead" space within the high school and better use of existing facilities throughout the system.

Seifert said at least six "relocatables" would have been required to relieve overcrowding at the high school, with three additional teachers and one aide, at a total cost of $198,500. Three relocatables and one aide at East Jr. High would have cost $86,500, he said, and six relocatables at West Jr. High, $162,000.

"I believe it's too little, and would cost too much for just the next five years," Seifert said.

It is expected that the secondary "bulge" will pass through by 1980 or so.

Seifert recommended the committee withdraw their article for $450,000 from town meeting, and look first at available space within the high school. He said they might possibly get four additional classrooms by filling in a second floor above the library, which now has a two-story high ceiling.

Seifert also suggested the committee go back to a possibility which was discussed "for some 35 seconds at Town Meeting" in 1971 -- an addition to the high school.

Committeeman George Olesen noted that the administration had recently described the 4-4-4 grade plan as educationally very sound, but Seifert added that the cost of converting two elementaries to "middle schools" would be "very extreme."

He said another major consideration in changing to a middle school set up is in converting back, if the elementary population should go up again.

Another issue, Seifert said, is that it will change the whole makeup of the town. "The neighborhood schools system will be destroyed."

Olesen said that only two elementaries would be affected and Seifert added yes, "one third of them."

"If neighborhood schools are more desirous than the cost of converting them," Olesen added, "then the townspeople will let us know about it."

Chairman Frank Griggs said that the Friends of Shawsheen Neighborhood Association had asked to talk to the committee before town meeting about possible use of the old Sacred Heart School, which they hope to preserve.

He said the committee would surely be asked on the floor of town meeting how they felt about Sacred Heart, and "it would behoove us to have an answer."

Committeeman David Ahouse added that the committee was still looking for solutions to the overcrowding that would start in September, "even though it might not be the one they would desire in the long run."

Annual Auction Planned

Saturday, May 8 is the Third Annual Andover Recycling Auction! All townspeople are urged to begin to save and set aside usable sports equipment, toys, furniture, small appliances and other workable memorabilia. If pickup is necessary now, please call 475-5864 for an appointment to be arranged.

A much anticipated spring event, the Recycling Auction brings money to the town coffers and smiles to many citizens who have purchased auction items at true bargain prices. Auction articles go to new homes to be reused rather than to be buried in a landfill somewhere.

Tradition

West Elementary School has been chosen to house the traditional school program when it is instituted next year.

The school committee's report on the recent traditional school survey, and a recommendation from Superintendent Kenneth Seifert that West has the "ability of space" to incorporate the program with the amount of displacement.

West parents expressed that their youngsters wanted to remain in the temporary program might be bussed elsewhere, indications were that displacement, if any, should be minimal.

In general, Assessor Superintendent Harry West said, there appeared to be sufficient interest to institute a traditional class at each of the Grades 1 through 6.

The administration is to report back at Town Meeting.

Traditional Program To Be Held At West

West Elementary School has been chosen to house the traditional school program when it is instituted next fall.

The school committee's decision came Tuesday night after a report on the recent traditional school survey, and after a recommendation from Superintendent Kenneth R. Seifert that West has the "flexibility of space" to incorporate the program with the least amount of displacement.

West parents expressed fear that their youngsters who wanted to remain in the contemporary program might have to be bussed elsewhere, but indications were that displacement, if any, should be light.

In general, Associate Superintendent Harry Westcott said, there appeared to be sufficient interest to institute one traditional class at each level, Grades 1 through 6.

The administration is to begin reporting back at Tuesday night's meeting, with more details.

Results of the survey, sent home to parents a few weeks ago, show a total of 154 youngsters, of 5.07 percent of the elementary population, would enroll in the traditional program next fall regardless of its location. Thirteen of those youngsters are now at Bancroft, 16 at Doherty, nine at Sanborn, 37 at Shawsheen, 39 at South, and 40 at West.

A second category, which Westcott said posed a "nagging question", was youngsters who would enroll in a traditional program only if it were in their present schools.

"My question is, are all of those bonafide candidates for traditional," he asked, "or are they insuring that those kids will stay at their neighborhood schools?"

"You're saying some parents have hedged their bets?" Chairman Frank Griggs asked.

"Some people have called up and said they're doing just that," Westcott replied.

Some 48 youngsters, according to the survey, would enroll in a traditional program only if it were at West.

Those at other schools who would enroll in a traditional program only at their own schools included 20 at Bancroft, 27 at Doherty, 34 at Sanborn, 16 at Shawsheen and 32 at South, for a grand total of 177, or 6.3 percent of the elementary population.

Still a third category included youngsters who listed specific schools to which they would go for a traditional program. Sixteen specified West.

A preliminary view of the tabulations indicates that some 218 youngsters would participate in a traditional program if it were held at West. A total of 100 of them are already in school there.

Of those who indicated they would enroll no matter where the program is held, 24 will be in Grade 1 next year; 15 in Grade 2; 20 in Grade 3; 29 in Grade 4; 25 in Grade 5 and 24 in Grade 6.

Seifert suggested working with a group of parents at West as the plans proceed. He reiterated that the administration's concern is over displacing the fewest number of students.

Mrs. Ethel Howard, a standard-bearer of the traditional cause, asked about the 87.42 percent of the elementary population who opted to remain in the contemporary program.

"Does that mean they're satisfied?" she asked.

"It means just what it says," Seifert replied.

Greenberg Tops In Ski Race Time

Ken Greenberg, 15, of Andover, turned in the best Pepsi-Cola Junior NASTAR ski racing performance of the week at Breckenridge, Breck, Colorado. His time for the slalom race was 28.8 seconds, which translates into a national handicap of 17. The time and handicap rank the youngster among the best ski racers of that age group in the country.

The second best time was 33.1 seconds for a "handicap" of 34 for fifteen year old Bruce Peterson of Barrington, Illinois.

Pepsi-Cola Junior NASTAR (National Standard Race) is a ski racing program conducted at more than 80 top ski areas in the country. A youngster's time over a slalom race course is sent to computer center in Aspen, Colorado where it is compared and evaluated against the times turned in by all other youngsters in that age group. The youngster is then issued a national "handicap" that indicates how he or she compares to the best in the nation.

St. Augustine's B Nears Title

By Rick Harrison

St. Augustine B moved one notch closer to the regular season championship in the Intermediate Division of the Andover Church Basketball League, erupting for 22 points in the fourth quarter to topple South Church 35-16 in one of five games last Monday night at the East Junior High.

The victory was the eighth straight without a loss for St. Augustine B, which clinched at least a title tie with the playoffs only two weeks away.

St. Augustine A remained in contention with a last period spurt of its own, netting 16 points in that stanza to overcome a one-point deficit and sink Ballardvale United, 27-15. The win gives the A-team a 7-1 mark.

St. Augustine D, with a little help from its friends, took sole possession of third place (6-2) following a come-from-behind 23-22 conquest of St. Robert's B.

Christ Church vaulted into a fourth place deadlock with St. Robert's A, trimming that club 31-22 to leave both at 5-3 overall.

St. Augustine C unloaded the heavy artillery for its biggest offensive outburst of the campaign, whipping St. Robert's C, 39-11.

St. Augustine D, 23-22

The latest in a season of close, nerve-tingling games saw St. Augustine D rally in the dying moments to hand St. Robert's B its fourth loss in the last five games.

St. Robert's led 8-6 after one period. It was 10-10 at halftime, and St. Robert's regained a 16-12 advantage at the end of three quarters.

However, Dave Fluet pumped through seven last period markers to key an 11-6 St. Augustine surge that pulled it out. E.J. Perry chipped in two clutch free throws and Don Green a big bucket.

Dave Fluet paced all scorers for the victors with 9 points, E.J. Perry hooped 8, Don Green 4 and Pat Beaudine had a second period basket.

Ernie Costello, Mike Beaudine and Brian Beckerman also played well.

Dick Danner led the answering fire for St. Robert's B with 9 points, Dan Lindsay notched 8, Paul Tassanari was held to 3 and Cameron added 2. Neil Saunders contributed a fine floor game.

St. Augustine A, 27-15

With a pre-vacation two-game win streak under its belt, Ballardvale United threw a scare into second-place St. Augustine A by grabbing a 6-3 halftime edge and 11-10 advantage entering the fourth stanza.

However, in the final five minutes Mike White, Tim Corkery and Ted Kelley combined talents and shooting eyes for 16 points as St. Augustine A raced away to victory.

Ted Kelley found himself as game-high scorer once again with 10 points. Mike White popped in 8 markers, Tim Corkery 7 and Dick Kelley stuffed a third quarter fieldgoal.

Todd McLeod, with solo buckets in each of the last three frames, powered the BU offense with 6 points. Glenn Acciardi swished 5, and Paul Thoday joined Gary Forbes with second quarter 2-pointers.

Christ Church, 31-22

Christ Church overcame a first period deficit to capture its fifth game in the last six starts, dumping St. Robert's A 31-22.

St. Robert's forged a 9-5 early edge behind the eight points of guard Phil Farr, but Mark Rogers matched that total for the winners in the second period as CC took a 15-11 advantage by intermission.

Farr and Russ Lewis pocketed four markers apiece for their respective teams in the third canto, and six more from Lewis in the finale keyed a 10-7 Christ Church run to insure the triumph.

Russ Lewis and Mark Rogers both sealed double figures with 15 and 12 points for CC, while single floor shots were dunked by Mark Frost and Dave Menard.

John Rogers had a fine defensive game for the victors.

Red-hot Phil Farr emerged as game-high man with 16 points for St. Robert's A, but the only other offensive support was mustered by Bob Leitch's 5 markers and a last period charity toss from Ken Saliba.

Pete Byrne and Barry Lemieux were other St. Robert's leaders.

St. Augustine C, 39-11

St. Augustine C, its attack well-oiled and operating on all cylinders, turned a tight 11-6 game into a romp by outgunning St. Robert's C 18-1 in the pivotal third quarter.

Paul Kaminski and Kevin Donnelly were the top gunners in that stanza with eight points apiece.

Kaminski finished with one of the division's best individual performances, scoring in every period for a game-high 19 points. Donnelly wasn't far behind with 14, while Steve Farrington caged 4 last quarter points and Glen Markey delivered one basket.

Chris O'Reilly completed the hard-working C-team starting five.

On the St. Robert's side of the ledger Tony Romano canned 5 points, Marty Melia netted a first period bucket, and Scott Noffle joined Tom O'Briend with fourth fram baskets.

Mike Dampousse, Bob French and Yvonne Levesque were other stalwarts.

St. Augustine B, 35-16

St. Augustine B trailed South 2-0 after one quarter, led 5-4 at halftime and 13-8 after three, but shifted into overdrive as its division-leading offense (254 points) poured through 22 in the last five minutes.

Dave Barker spearheaded the well-balanced charge with 9 points, big Jack Horan and Mark

YMCA Girls' Swim Honors

The Andover - North Andover YMCA Sea Stars, the swim team with eight age/sex divisions, is nearing the end of its second season. The girls' teams participated for the first time in the Eastern Mass. YMCA Swimming Championships held on Feb. 20, 21 and 22 at the Brockton High School pool. The local girls captured 13 medals in competing in a championship event with hundreds of entries from 28 Associations.

Particularly effective were Class "D" swimmers (9 and 10 years) which bodes well for the future of the Andover - North Andover club. Liz Higgins captured a 3rd place medal in the 50 yd. breaststroke, teammate Julie Chubbuck won 4ths in both the 50 yd. butterfly and the 50 yd. backstroke and Tracey McCoy was 5th for a medal in the 50 yd. freestyle.

The Class "A" (15-17 years)

400 yd. freestyle relay team placed 4th with Sallie Reynolds, Katie Wall, Patty Barrett and Janet Moreau and 6th place medals were won by Barrett, Wall, Moreau and Sally Yeates in the 200 yd. medley relay. Sallie Reynolds was the only other individual place winner as she took a 5th in the 500 yd. freestyle. Other competitions whose records merited selection for participation in this fast competition were: Dale Johnson, Beth Hetley, Susan Tatem, Linda Kent, Amy Price, Jennifer Joslyn, Kate Riddiford, Luanne Bates and Jane Oskar.

Competing in Division 3 of the Eastern Mass. YMCA Swim League, the Andover - North Andover YMCA girls teams, in their first season of league competition, produced excellent records. The Class "D" team and the Class "B" team (13 and 14 years) were undefeated with identical 5-0 records, as was the unofficial Class "A" club. In Class "C" (11 & 12 years) the locals did less well with a 2 and 3 record and they did not compete in Class "E" (8 and under) but will field a team in this age division next season.

Informal meets for the girls are scheduled with Haverhill YMCA on March 6 and Newburyport YWCA on March 13, each involving selected age divisions. On Wednesday, March 10, at 5:30 p.m. team pictures will be taken at the YMCA and on March 31 the season will conclude with a swim team party. During the following Spring Term the YMCA will provide a minimum training program for its competitor swimmers who will be encouraged to devote time to other skills areas of the total aquatic field.

AHS Swimmers Place Well

Despite a strong start with the first place relay team of Bates, Cronin, Dowd and Klechinsky (which qualified for the boys' high school State Championships with a great time of 1:58.5), the new AHS team was overpowered by a small margin in a meet with Phillips Academy.

Derek Bates placed first in the 200 I.M. and second in the 100 Backstroke. Sean Dowd outdistanced his competitors by half a pool to place first in the 100 Butterfly (1:02), also placed first in the 100 Breaststroke along with Courtney Cronin who placed third in that event. Kevin Hanawalt placed second in the 200 Freestyle, while Len Tatem was just beaten out of second place in the 50 Freestyle by a narrow margin. Tatem also placed second in the 500 Freestyle along with Doug Greenlee who placed third. John Klechinsky won the 100 Freestyle.

Other team members who contributed to the score were Gerry St. Onge, Barry Sullivan, Kevin Kenney, John Williams, Steve Flieder, David Bono, Chuck Lawton, Dana Rosengard, and Elliot Kaplan.

The girls and boys AHS swim teams are coached by Carol and Ed Dowd and all students are encouraged to participate.

Vacation Skier

Erin Farr, 10 Penobscott Way, a seventh grader at Andover East Junior High, is shown on the slopes at Sugarloaf, during the ski trip conducted last week by the Recreation - Community Schools Department.

Vacation Program A Success

The Recreation - Community Schools Department "February Vacation Experience" program attracted more than 1,150 people. The program was composed of a variety of activities designed to provide fun, entertainment and enrichment for all members of the family.

"Often Annie", a popular night club band, kicked off the vacation program as they performed a dance/concert for 360 junior/senior high students at the East Junior High School.

Bugs Bunny and "George" a 250 pound St. Bernard who is afraid of cats and sulks in the bathtub, entertained more than 175 children on Thursday afternoon at the Doherty School.

Again, swimming was a popular activity as more than 80 persons participated in the family and student swims on Wednesday at the Greater Lawrence Regional Vocational Technical High School.

Open gyms at the high school, junior highs and elementary schools found another 180 persons playing basketball, floor hockey, and working on the gymnastics equipment.

A sand designing workshop drew more than 40 persons ranging from elementary school age to adult. Demonstrations and assistance was provided in the popular art of designing terrariums with sand flowers and birds.

Over 30 children participated in a new creative experience workshop. Given balloons, buttons, yarn, beads and glue, the children created faces, animals, and an endless variety of figures.

Junior/senior high students took a ski trip to Sugarloaf for the weekend. Excellent skiing was found on Saturday and sticky due to the rain on Sunday. Regardless of ski conditions a good time was had by all.

For those inclined toward eating, a relaxing discount meal was at The Nineteen Restaurant on Tuesday night.

The popular elementary "Play with Clay" class found 25 more youngsters letting their hands create what was in their minds for an afternoon of fun and creativity.

Friday afternoon was the conclusion of the Second Annual Recreation - Community Schools Bowling Tournament. 175 bowlers competed in eight divisions. Results of the tournament were:

In the event of severely wet conditions the nearby Indian Ridge Reservation will serve as an alternate choice. There will be a hike, rain or shine. Co-leaders are Fred Wallace of Farrwood Drive, Andover, and his daughter, Nancy.

This scenic river played an important part in the founding of Andover, providing food, water and power to the early settlers. One of the first industries established was fishing. Permission to build a fish weir was granted to Capt. Bradstreet, Lieut. Osgood, et al by the town fathers in 1681. For many years thereafter, the river yielded up a bountiful harvest of alewives (a small herring-like fish) and very probably Atlantic salmon - a species long since gone from these waters. Not far from the entrance to the Shawsheen Reservation is the Benjamin Abbott House built in 1685 by one of the area's earliest settlers. It is likely that the field which the group will be crossing were among the first to be cultivated by that family.

In more recent times the beauty and quality of the river in terms of scenic and recreational value were adversely affected by industrialization and pollution, but today, through the cooperative efforts of citizens' groups and organizations of the public and private sectors, it is being restored and preserved. Many types of wildlife can be found there and a variety of trees and flowers.

In Friday Concert

Phillips Academy students who will be appearing in joint recital of the concert band and orchestra in George Washington Hall, Friday at 6:45 p.m. are, from left, Gregg Orr, soloist in the Weber Clarinet Concerto, M. Anne Cooper, and Thomas Harshman, soloists in the Mozart Double Piano Concerto.

P.A. Band, Orchestra In Recital

The Music Department of Phillips Academy presents a joint recital of the Concert Band and Orchestra, in George Washington Hall, on Friday, Feb. 27, 1976. The directors of the band and orchestra are, respectively, Richard H. Wilson and William E. Thomas.

The Phillips Academy Orchestra will perform two works on this joint recital. The first work will be a Double Piano Concerto by W. A. Mozart, K. 365. The soloists will be two students from the Academy, Thomas R. Harshman (1979) from Englewood, New Jersey, and M. Anne Cooper (1976) from Slingerland, New York. The other work that the orchestra will perform is Franz Schubert's Symphony in B minor (The "Unfinished").

The Concert Band, in what seems an appropriate gesture for this bicentennial year, will play primarily music by British and American composers. Featured works will be Gustav Holst's great First Suite in E Flat, a milestone in the literature of the concert band; Weber's Clarinet Concertino, Op. 26, featuring principal clarinetist Gregg Orr (1978) as soloist; Irish Tune and Shepherd's Hey, a pair of tunes, one beautiful and the other bracing, by Percy Grainger; Leonard Bernstein's catchy Danzon from his ballet Fancy Free; and, last but not least, The Thunderer march, by that most American of composers, John Phillip Sousa.

In addition to Gregg Orr, other local area students performing include Ann and Jim Pawlowski, Dean and Russell Swain, Jimmy Orr, Scott Cook, Laura Viehman, Pam Schwartz, Tom and Ben Lloyd.

Candy Sale Underway By YMCA

The seventh annual World Service Candy Sale of the Andover - North Andover YMCA has been concluded. Under the leadership of the YMCA staff a total of 2,893 boxes of candy were sold with exactly 150 children involving themselves in the service project. Of this total, 122 sold one dozen boxes or more.

The outstanding 41 salespeople who reached 36 boxes or more in total sales participated in a recognition program which included a bus trip to Boston and an Ice Follies performance at the Garden. YMCA Youth Program Director Mike Peltz supervised with YMCA leaders and parents assisting.

Proceeds from the sales have been forwarded to the World Alliance of YMCA's which now coordinates YMCA organizations in 88 countries. Since 1889 YMCA's of North America have provided seed money for developing YMCA youth programs in underdeveloped nations of the world. YMCA youth members were informed concerning the many needs of children in specific nations where YMCA work is presently under way, by means of presentations which included moving pictures and distribution of literature.

It has been a policy in the Children's Room that seventh graders could transfer their children's card upstairs to the Adult Room by simply stating verbally that he/she is in the seventh grade. Unfortunately, many sixth or even fifth graders have tried to transfer their cards in this way. Now, it has become necessary to make a new rule. In order to transfer his/her card, a seventh grader must show proof of grade, i.e. a program card, an old report card, or have a parent verify the grade. This rule will also apply to those persons in grades higher than the seventh who have not transferred their cards. A sixth grader may bring in the final report card showing promotion and obtain a transfer. In order to insure fairness to all, I felt this rule to be necessary.

ACT Readies March Production

When you are a young theater group as is ACT, perhaps the most important ingredient is a good director, one who can teach as he or she directs. ACT is fortunate to have Peg Ireland as the director of its forthcoming production of Lysistrata.

Ms. Ireland has directed several shows for the noted Garrett Players, one of which, Endgame, received many awards, including best director, at the New England Theater Conference, the community theater equivalent of the Academy Awards. Endgame went on to win "best play" in the regional competition and was second runner-up at the national conference. Ms. Ireland was also the director of ACT's production of The Little Foxes last year.

The director is responsible for all artistic aspects of a production. She, along with the actors, works a minimum of 80 to 85 hours of rehearsal time before a performance.

In Ms. Ireland's words, "The director has got to be a very opinionated person." He or she also needs to be encouraging, rather than judgmental of the actors.

By production time, the director's job should be finished and it is then up to the Stage Manager to run the show. It is up to him or her to see that everything is in the right place, including actors, scenery, furniture, props, and curtain.

Julie Pike, stage manager for Lysistrata, has done that job for at least four ACT productions. She is well-organized and cool-headed and, as such, is an enormous asset to the group.

While most of the cast members are Andover residents, a few are from surrounding towns including Lawrence, Melhuon, Georgetown and Acton.

Farthest-flown is Enid Summers who comes from Wallingford-on-Thames in England. Ms. Summers is in Andover for a year on a Fulbright Exchange Program and is teaching the first grade at Bancroft School. She has been active in the Benson Players in England, playing such roles as Madame Arcati in Blithe Spirit and Lady Windermere in Lord Arthur Saville's Crime by Oscar Wilde. She brings charm and vitality to the difficult part of the Chorus.

Also featured in the cast are Susan Lenoe and Elaine Ciampi who won honors for ACT at last year's New England Theater Conference.

Lysistrata, a rollicking bawdy romp written 2500 years ago, proves the old adage that people don't change very much. Performance dates are March 5, 6, 12 and 13 at 8:30 p.m. at West 19 Elementary School Auditorium.

Observing The Bicentennial At Christ Church

Wearing bonnets and hoops and breeches and tricorne hats, parishioners of all ages turned out last weekend to take part in Christ Church's Bicentennial observance.

One doesn't have to be in a picturesque New England town or have breakfast where George Washington once did to celebrate America's Bicentennial. Bishop-elect John B. Coburn told the listeners at a Sunday morning service.

But, he said, such "authenticity" does add a special air to the occasion.

Bishop-elect Coburn, sitting for the first time in the Bishop's chair before he gave his sermon, was attending his first official function in his new capacity. He and the wardens and the parish clergy had had breakfast a short time before at the historic Deacon Isaac Abbot Tavern on Elm Street, now the home of Christ Church members Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Young.

It was there that Washington had once indeed had breakfast, while passing through Andover on his way from Haverhill to Lexington.

Bishop-elect Coburn also celebrated the Holy Communion at 8 a.m. using a 1662 Prayer book, and a reception for him and Mrs. Coburn in the Parish Hall at 5 o'clock ended the two-day festivities.

It all began with a cotillion and buffet dinner Saturday night, attended by some 150 parishioners. They were taught folk dances by the Boston Centre of the Country Dance and Song Society, a group that also sang a special toast to George Washington.

A "Colonial" buffet of ham, beef, cole slaw and baked beans, prepared by the church's Dinners for Eight group, followed the dancing.

Parishioners also braved the Sunday morning dampness to dedicate a plaque at the Rose Cottage on Chestnut Street, the first rectory of Christ Church, and to dedicate a new flag pole in front of the church in memory of William H. Case and Roger W. Eckfeldt, Jr. Both had been members of the parish.

At Christ Church's regular Sunday morning Forums, guest speaker for the occasion was the Rev. Harold T. Handley, rector emeritus of the Church of Our Redeemer in Lexington, chaplain of the Lexington Minutemen, and colonial historian.

Mr. Handley dramatically covered such topics as what George Washington was really like, the part Andover played in the Revolution, and the fact that the colonists were seeking religious freedom as well as freedom from excess taxation.

Visiting clergy also included The Rev. John Crocker, D.D., retired headmaster of Groton School; The Rev. Raymond A. Nelson, headmaster of Pike

School; and The Rev. Francis B. Downs, retired rector of St. Anne's Church, Lowell.

A luncheon for the Bishop-elect and visiting guests was held at 12:30, and a candlelight chamber concert by members of the Phillips Academy Chamber Music Group followed at 4:30, with selections by Krebs, J.S. Bach, Palestrina, Pachelbel, Handel and Telemann. Creighton Bedford, a member of Christ Church, was a soloist.

The 5 p.m. reception for the Bishop-elect and Mrs. Coburn had been planned by Mrs. Robin Moseley. At the tea, Andover Bicentennial medals were presented to the Bishop-elect, Christ Church clergy, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Watkinson, who were the parishioners in overall charge of the whole weekend celebration.

Other activities included a mini-museum of Christ Church history, and visits to the Church School classrooms, where special Bicentennial projects by church youth were on display.

The flag is raised at dedication of new pole, in memory of former parishioners William H. Case and Roger Eckfeldt. In tri-corns at left, are Bishop-elect Coburn and the Rev. Edmond J. Pike, rector.

Election Time Brings Some Revelations

Next Monday would normally be considered a busy time for local election officials, with the annual town election previously falling on that date.

But, due to changes approved last year, candidates will have the month of March to campaign this year, the voters making their choices on March 22.

There is some important electoral business next week, however, with the Presidential Primary due on Tuesday when Andover's polls will be open from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. in all six precincts.

While this exercise in the democratic process is yawned at every four years in this state, the election this year has some rather interesting revelations for Andover voters.

First is the fact that for the first time, probably in the town's history, the Democrats outnumber the Republicans.

Those in the unenrolled category still outnumber the Democrat and Republican registrants, but that there are now 4,298 Democrats registered in Andover, as compared to 3,984 followers of the Grand Old Party, must come as a decided shock to those who can recall when Andover was 3 to 1 in favor of Alf Landon in his disastrous attempt to wrest the White House from Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The other matter of significance in the Tuesday Presidential Primary is the ballot provision to insure that your voice can be heard.

Unlike past primaries, voters this year can indicate they have no choice for a Presidential candidate.

The particular slot on the ballot may be significant with the abundance of Democrats seeking the nomination, as well as the Republican contest between President Ford and Ronald Regan.

This, of course, means that there really is no excuse not to participate in the primary.

Registering your indecision on the Presidential candidates will still count as a vote in the election which also decides the make-up of the state and town Democrat and Republican committees.

It is understandable that there is confusion as to choice even after the New Hampshire primary. There was substantial commentary surrounding the first in the nation election, that the voters of the Granite State were really undecided on a choice, and possibly remained away from the polls.

But, for Massachusetts, there is the opportunity to say, electorally, you are undecided.

For those unenrolled, participation in the primary need not result in permanent party designation. Cards are provided at the polling places to have the party designation removed after the balloting. The cards may be mailed or returned in person to the town clerk's office.

With a little effort, Andover can make a good showing on Tuesday.

And, while on the electoral process, we might comment on - -

The Town Election

- - which shows some quite encouraging signs this year.

The turnout of candidates for three town offices this year is substantial, thus indicating a sincere interest in the governing of the community.

Of particular interest is the selectmen's race where two vacancies have attracted a field of seven candidates.

Those seeking the office represent a broad background of varied experiences to bring to municipal affairs.

Before the deadline for filing nominations on Monday, the interest in the school committee race also perked up, with six candidates seeking the two three-year terms available.

There will also be a contest for representation on the Greater Lawrence Regional Vocational Technical school committee, where two candidates seek the spot being vacated by Fred Tarbox.

Such interest indicates a good campaign between now and March 22 with ample time for all to get their message across to the voters.

We trust that the time between now and election day will be well spent by the candidates and that their efforts will be rewarded on March 22 with a good, substantial voter turnout.

Candidates with Stars In Their Eyes

by Jack Anderson
with Joe Spear

WASHINGTON -- The presidential candidates have been scrambling to find movie stars to brighten up their bandwagons. But so far, most Hollywood celebrities are turning their backs on politics.

Not even Frank Sinatra, the pal of politicians, is likely to hit the campaign trail this year. Privately, he favors his old friend Ronald Reagan. Sinatra's second choice, if Reagan should falter, would be Hubert Humphrey. But at this point, old blue eyes isn't anxious to campaign for anyone.

Reagan is expected to coax a few Hollywood stalwarts such as John Wayne and Jimmy Stewart onto his bandwagon. And singer Helen Reddy is trying to line up entertainers to support Humphrey.

Sargent Shriver, with his Kennedy glamor, has also managed to attract a few stars -- among them Lauren Bacall, Carol Channing, Paul Newman and Joanne Woodward. Fred Harris is claiming the support of Carroll O'Connor and Dennis Weaver. And Henry Jackson has landed Bonanza's Lorne Greene. But most of the stars are ducking the 1976 campaign.

The reason, according to our Hollywood sources, is that Richard Nixon has left a bad memory. In 1972, Nixon arranged a timely, multimillion-dollar tax break for the movie industry. A Nixon aide immediately began to recruit stars, reminding the movieland brass what Nixon had done for them.

An extraordinary effort was made, for example, to bring Sammy Davis Jr. into the Nixon camp. He was promised an appointment to a presidential commission and was flown in style to Nixon rallies. Who can forget the famous picture of Sammy Davis hugging Nixon on stage? Well, Davis would like to forget it. And a lot of other stars who supported the disgraced Nixon would like to forget they did. So this time around, they'd rather watch their reruns, appear on the Hollywood Squares and keep their political opinions to themselves.

Reluctant Regulators: After a thorough study of the available evidence, we nominate the regulatory commissions as the worst government agencies in Washington.

They wield tremendous power. The Interstate Commerce Commission, for instance, can authorize billion-dollar mergers between great railroads. The Civil Aeronautics Board decides which airlines will get the choice routes. The Federal Power Commission fixes the rates that millions of consumers pay for electricity and natural gas.

These agencies were created to protect the public, but many of them have reversed their roles. They have been besieged by the lawyers and lobbyists of the corporations that are supposed to be regulated. As a result, these agencies often serve rather than regulate the special interests.

The worst of the regulatory agencies, in our opinion, is the Federal Maritime Commission. This agency is supposed to regulate commerce on the high seas. But its reluctant regulators devote their time largely to gathering and categorizing information that merely adds to the general confusion.

The Federal Maritime Commission does such a poor job that it hides its incompetence in secrecy. For example, the Maritime Commission classified one government report that the Interstate Commerce Commission freely opened to the public.

The second worst agency, in our opinion, is the Federal Power Commission. The FPC has become the advocate, rather than the regulator, of the big gas companies.

On January 28, for example, the FPC published a notice in the Federal Register announcing a fuel adjustment modification, which would benefit a major power company.

The FPC, of course, is supposed to protect the public. Yet the consumers were given only one day to challenge this latest benefit for the gas company. The FPC proclaimed that all protests had to be in by January 29, the very next day.

Judicial Giant: Two years ago, Time magazine selected Judge John Sirica as man of the year. He had been an obscure federal judge, son of an Italian immigrant. Yet this judge, of humble origins, stood up to the President of the United States.

Judge Sirica broke the Watergate case. He used his courtroom to find the truth and see that justice was done.

Today, he lies in a hospital bed, the victim of a severe heart attack. He has already started to fade from public memory. But his enemies apparently haven't forgotten him. He has received death threats. Two armed marshals have been guarding his hospital door. Inside, he has been under intensive care. And in his isolation, he has been reliving the Watergate case. He has asked members of the hospital staff what they think of his Watergate decisions. The questions have been almost plaintive, as if he is seeking reassurance.

Will Rocky Run?: Sources close to Vice President Nelson Rockefeller say that if Ronald Reagan is running ahead of President Ford after the Texas primary on May 1, then Rockefeller may quit the vice presidency and jump into the presidential race. His purpose, according to friends, would be to head off Reagan.

We reached Rockefeller by phone and he confirmed that friends have urged him to get into the race against Reagan. But Rockefeller insisted he has no intention of taking on Reagan. Rockefeller said he is convinced Reagan has peaked and is heading downhill.

Fuddle Factory: The bureaucrats, who man the swivel chairs of Washington, bombard one another with memos in septuplicate. At the end of each day, more than 90 tons of wastepaper are picked up off the battlefield. This makes Washington the wastepaper center of the world.

Yet Washington has no large paper recycling programs. The General Services Administration issued regulations requiring that all paper used by the government must contain recycled fiber. But Congress, unnoticed by the press, immediately exempted paper used for "writing, copying and printing." Of course, this represents 95 per cent of all the paper used in Washington.

Children's Literature Is Topic

27

A discussion of children's literature will be held March 4 at the Stevens Memorial Library in North Andover. Denise Johnson, Children's Librarian, will present her own views regarding picture books, easy books, fiction, and non-fiction for children. She will also discuss the problems of reluctant readers and insatiable readers. A child's success in school and in later career often depends on his early success and enjoyment in reading.

Miss Johnson has four years' experience working with children in Ipswich and North Andover.

The program is part of the morning "Coffee Break" series for women. Coffee served at 9:45. Program begins at 10 a.m.

A story hour is held at the same time for pre-school children. Children should be registered in advance. No registration necessary for the adult program.

Flower Show Visit Is Scheduled

A bus trip to the New England Spring Garden and Flower Show at Boston's Commonwealth Armory is being planned by the Village Garden Club on March 16. The bus will leave the Shawsheen Shopping Plaza at 9 a.m. and return at 3 p.m. The club is extending an invitation to others to join them. Anyone interested in reserving a seat on the bus can call Mrs. Martin Silverman.

A terrarium workshop was held today at the home of Mrs. Vincent Suozzo. Following a demonstration and instruction of planting and caring for terrariums, the members proceeded to design their own gardens.

Griggs

do, not the maximum."

Other municipal workers, "who can now use the teachers' contract as a guideline."

The Andover School Committee, which now has the weight of negotiations off its shoulders.

The losers, Griggs said, are all future school committees and administrators, professional teachers, and long-suffering taxpayers.

Griggs said school committees will lose because the AEA has been given the impression that "the threat of a strike is enough to extort a settlement."

Professional teachers who continue to give their best, he said, will be "painted with the same brush as the others", while administrators will have difficulty in administering the contract.

The taxpayers will pay $575,000 more next year to the same teachers, he said, who will teach fewer pupils for fewer hours.

Griggs produced figures to show that most teachers will be getting a raise of about 20 percent over this year and next, while some will be getting as much as 30 percent. The ones who get the least, he said, are those at the top of the scale,

Step 13. They will be getting only 14.4 percent.

In addition, he said, "there's still another little goodie - the track changes." About 40 teachers a year - or 80 in this two-year contract - will change tracks at a cost of between $400 and $1200 each.

The total cost is more than one percent of the town's school budget each year, Griggs said.

Furthermore, he said, the AEA has now exercised a grievance procedure for teachers who don't want to have bus duty, corridor duty, detention duty or study hall duty.

"They have already divested themselves of playground and cafeteria duty, he went on, and the taxpayers are picking up the tab for aides to take their places.

"This is a fair settlement?" he asked. "I don't believe it."

Mrs. Jeannette DeFelic of Pine St. facetiously thanked the three committeemen who voted for the settlement, and then suggested getting rid of the aides to "make the teachers earn their pay."

"Let's fill up those classrooms," she said. "There's no reason why they can't teach 30 pupils."

"I'll be darned," she concluded, "if I'm going to lose my house to pay those salaries."

In answer to a question from the floor, Griggs said that the raises would amount to about $2.50 on the tax rate, in addition to the more than $20 that goes to salaries now.

Committeeman Elaine Viehmann said that she had a "level of faith" in the teachers in Andover and in the school system. No one wins and no one loses in such a settlement, she said.

Committeeman George Olesen agreed with Griggs that "the school committee and future administrations are the losers."

"It's not a case where both walked off thinking they got half a piece of cake," he said. "The teachers walked off with the whole loaf."

Olesen said the committee had negotiated "from weakness" in three areas.

First, he said, "the tactics imposed by some teachers were allowed to occur without reprimand, and were allowed to influence the majority of this committee."

Secondly, in the area of just cause, he said, the teachers should go one way or the other.

"To have tenure and just cause is duplication," he said. "It's time for people to stand up and talk against tenure."

Thirdly, he questioned the method in which an increase occurred for coaches' salaries. While the AEA was negotiating for the coaches, he said, the school committee took the position that "you are not asking enough... we want to give you more."

"It's not incumbent on us to tell the negotiators for the opposite side they're not asking enough," Olesen said.

He asked that every effort be made to have direct interfacing without professional negotiators, in the future.

"I think we would have gotten a settlement a lot sooner without them, he said, and concluded that he, for one, would not sign the contract.

Committeeman David Ahouse, one of the committee's negotiators, said he thought the "just cause" clause was "about as minimal as you can get." It simply provides tenured teachers with the grievance route as well as the courts, he said.

Griggs added that he concurred with the majority of the committee on coaches' salaries. "There's nothing outstanding about their raises," he said.

Ahouse had called negotiations "one heck of an experience to go through", and repeated his statement of last week that he didn't think anyone had won.

"I think some people will say we lost very badly, however," he said.

Editor Is Judge In Contest

Robert C. Bergenheim, publisher of the Boston Herald American and Sunday Herald Advertiser, will be the speaker at the sixth annual high school newspaper awards dinner sponsored by Suffolk University, March 4.

Suffolk's journalism department will provide $3200 in scholarship awards to winners of the competition. Some 45 Greater Boston high school newspapers have entered the competition. Top scholarship prize will be $1600 for excellence in news writing. There will also be a $1000 scholarship for excellence in editorial writing and $600 for excellence in typography.

Bergenheim will address the high school editors and Suffolk University journalism students at 5 p.m. A 6 p.m. dinner in the main dining hall of the university's Frank J. Donahue building will follow.

A native of Boston, Bergenheim spent more than 30 years of his newspaper career with the Christian Science Monitor rising from a copy boy to general manager before leaving in 1971 and becoming director of newspaper operations for the McClatchy Corp. of Sacramento, Calif. In March of 1975, the Hearst Corporation appointed him publisher to succeed the retiring Harold G. "Hap" Kern.

Among the members of the Massachusetts Press Association serving as judges for the contest are Robert E. Finneran, managing editor of the Andover Townsman; Albert E. Sylvia, editor and publisher of the North Reading Transcript; and president of the association Larz Nielsen, editor-publisher of the Wilmington Town Crier.

Mrs. Viehmann Responds

School Committee member Mrs. Elaine Viehmann issued the following statement Wednesday responding to the blast levelled by Chairman Frank Griggs concerning the agreement on the teacher contract.

"Last night (Tuesday) Dr. Griggs made a public statement about the settlement of the teachers' contract in which he accused the majority of the School Committee of selling out 'all future committees and all the citizens of Andover.' Having just spent 10 months in the negotiation process I would like to make a few points:

"First, the Committee over the past three years has pushed the teachers into a kind of militancy never before seen in this community. Over and over again the teachers have been shown by committee action and public statement that such non-monetary commodities as respect, support and ordinary courtesy are no longer available to them from their governing body. Despite the electoral attempt to remedy this situation last year the problem has exacerbated throughout the negotiation process and we are definitely suffering for it now.

"The building of a sense of community is the most pressing issue facing this School Committee and one to which I have devoted my major effort. I have seen gains made in terms of listening and working together and I will press forward in this area so that the gains might continue.

"Never for one moment could I take lightly the sums of money involved in this settlement. Never for one moment could I condone the militant actions of the teachers in this year's negotiations. But never for one moment could I overlook the cause of this militancy.

"Dr. Griggs has stated that he was willing to go no higher than 6 and 6 in his salary offer. The difference between his maximum offer and the final resolution is about 2% spread over a two year period. These two percentage points represent a total of about $110,000 over the two years or approximately 45¢ on the tax dollar. When the average taxpayer pays out his additional $10-$15 during these two years let him be aware that he is paying for three years of abuse.

"I believe sincerely in the commitment of our teachers to the educational process and the children of Andover. I call upon Frank Griggs to stop castigating and condemning and join me in a maximum effort to establish meaningful dialogue with our teachers and to work with them to rebuild the teacher - committee relationship in the Town of Andover."

On Stage In Reading

"A Streetcar Named Desire" will be presented by the Quannapowitt Players on March 12, 13, 14, 18, 19, 20. Tennessee Williams' bold Naturalistic style and "Southern Gothic" imagination capture a world of frustration and loneliness tempered with compassion.

NORTH ANDOVER AUTO BODY - The Finest Craftsmanship Available
When you require the services of an auto body shop, visit North Andover Auto Body, 374 Osgood Street, North Andover, near the entrance to North Andover High School. From the minute you drive up to this neat, brick Colonial style building, you will realize that this is a special kind of auto body shop. Step into their comfortable waiting room, where men and women will feel equally at home, and do business with men who have over 75 years of combined experience. North Andover Auto Body offers the finest craftsmanship available anywhere for wrecks or refinishing. Pete Saalfrank, owner, puts his reputation on the line with each and every car he handles, and specializes in better-than-average body work. This shop offers personalized service and is geared to meet your needs. You talk directly to the men who will do the work. With the economy as it is, it makes good sense to have your present car repaired, instead of replacing it. A little body work and a new paint job could make that older model look like new again. If your car has been in an accident, take it to the experts at North Andover Auto Body. Shown here from left to right, Fern Marcoux, Dave White, Bob Houde and Pete Saalfrank are completely qualified to do all types of body work and also auto painting. All the newest, modern equipment is used for a more efficient, professional job. Insurance estimates on auto body work are available at North Andover Auto Body. They will give you a fair and accurate estimate on any work to be done. And they will do the work, from start to finish in their own completely equipped shop, if you designate. Call or visit North Andover Auto Body soon, a "different" kind of body shop, located at 374 Osgood Street, North Andover. For information, call 683-6000.

Purity

The area was provided postal officials by the town as one of the options to consider rather than the acreage on which the government has a purchase sales agreement on Andover Street.

In addition to the Purity site, the town has suggested expansion of the present post office building on Main St., use of the former Grant's property in Shawsheen Plaza and another Park St. location.

The post office had announced its intent last fall to build on a site on Andover St. across from the American Power Devices, a dairy bar and real estate office. The land is owned by Sidney P. White.

In his comments to the TOWNSMAN, Giacomazzi said that Purity Supreme Supermarkets, a long-standing member of the Andover community, projects continued growth in its present location.

He said, "Purity Supreme has enjoyed ten years of active business in the Andover community and is looking forward to many more.

"Purity Supreme has no intention of selling the Andover store. Quite to the contrary, we plan to expand our present store in the not too distant future," the executive stated.

There is no timetable for execution of the expansion plans, but a Purity spokesman said it would appear to be very soon.

Meanwhile, Andover officials are awaiting word from George Walker, regional director of the postal service on the site selection.

Walker said last week that final evaluations of the sites were in progress and local officials would be notified soon.

The Andover St. plan calls for closing of the present Andover office and continuing window service only at a Main St. location.

Primary

Also to be elected are the Democrat and Republican town committees and state committee members for both parties.

The Democrat ballot will offer all of the candidates currently seeking the nomination and the Republican the names of President Ford and Ronald Reagan.

There are 4,298 Democrats eligible and 3,984 Republicans, with 5,582 unenrolled or independent voters and one American Party registrant.

Final Voter Registration

The final voter registration sessions to become eligible to participate in the town election, March 22, are scheduled for Saturday and Tuesday.

The Board of Registrars of Voters will be in session at the town house on Saturday from 12 noon to 10 p.m. and on Tuesday, March 2 from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m., also at the town house.

New voters may also register during regular office hours at the town clerk's office in the town house.

Finn

Finn cited a possible large tax increase and the disharmony that has surrounded school affairs for the past several years as the prime reasons for his entering the campaign. "We must exercise strict budgetary discipline, while promoting a healthy climate for learning."

A fiscal conservative, the candidate considers the secondary school population bulge an issue with strong fiscal and educational overtones. "Everybody agrees that something has to be done about the overcrowding problem. However, I don't understand why the only alternatives being given serious consideration are the purchase of portable classrooms and the purchase/renovation of the Sacred Heart School property. Either would require substantial cash investments. Since school population trends statewide and locally are downward, I think that a reallocation of Andover's existing space should be investigated before a final decision is made. If a grade schedule program such as 4-4-4 is acceptable, it would save the taxpayers a considerable amount of money."

Finn is in total agreement with statements which call for a reasonable understanding of differences of opinion among elected and appointed school officials, as well as the general public. "Unfortunately, the win-lose attitude that has prevailed in this town has resulted in everyone being a loser for the last several years. As a member of the school committee, one of my major concerns would be to effect an open minded approach to educational issues on the part of all parties involved."

"Although I favor the traditional approach to education for my own children, many children's learning styles are best met by the open classroom. The trend across the country is to alternative forms of education. I am pleased that Andover is going in this direction."

"In my view, the issue is not which educational alternative is better, but rather, how well each is being implemented. Since both concepts have proven track records, with sound administration Andover can have the best of both philosophies."

"As a taxpayer and the father of two young children entering the school system, I have a vested interest in both prudent fiscal policy and a sound educational program. My efforts will be directed towards the attainment of these goals."
